MEMORANDUM FOR: Legislative Counsel

SUBJECT: Legislative Program for the 91st Congress

REFERENCE: Your Memorandum of 15 November 1968,
Subject the same as above

1. In response to your request, there are two items which I believe merit consideration.

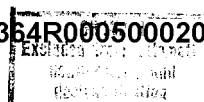

2. The first deals with the CIA Retirement Act of 1964, Section 236, which places strict limitations on the number of retirees in two specific five-year periods. As you know, we do not have enough experience to justify such arbitrary restrictions. I suggest that we attempt to obtain more flexibility by amending the section placing limitations on the number of retirements with the aim of permitting us to operate more efficiently.

3. The second item deals with legislation to provide penalties for anyone misrepresenting himself or holding himself out to be an employee, officer, official, representative or agent of the Central Intelligence Agency. Some government agencies have such legislation and, I believe, it is in order to have similar provisions for this Agency and its officers.
